- 1.5 These Terms and Conditions are subject to prospective change by Seller, provided that the Terms and Conditions posted on any Seller’s website, portal, or online services (“Website”) at the time that Buyer places any Purchase Order, shall govern such Purchase Order in question. Buyer acknowledges and agrees that posting of revised versions of the Terms and Conditions on the Website is a sufficient notice of any modifications. Buyer should review these Terms and Conditions and other policies and notices prior to each time Buyer purchases any Product that is available through the Website or other electronic ordering means, and Buyer’s use of such Website or other electronic ordering means shall constitute acceptance of and agreement to the current version of the Terms and Conditions.

3.2 Seller has the right, in its sole discretion, to accept or reject any Purchase Order. No Purchase Order (including any counteroffer or other offer) shall bind Seller, unless accepted and confirmed in writing (whether by written confirmation, invoice or other reasonably acceptable confirming means) and subject to the satisfactory establishment of Buyer’s credit worthiness, in Seller’s sole reasonable business judgment. Seller may send to Buyer an order acknowledgement confirming that it has received Buyer’s Order (an “Order Acknowledgement”). Such an Order Acknowledgement shall not under any circumstances be interpreted as an Order Confirmation for the purposes of this Section 3.2 and shall be sent for the sole purpose of confirming the Seller’s receipt of the Buyer’s Order.

3.3 Seller shall deliver the quantities of the Product ordered by Buyer in accordance with Section 3.1 and may suspend or limit quantities of the Product ordered by Buyer that are in excess of either, (a) the average monthly quantity of such Product, calculated on the immediately preceding rolling 12-month period; or (b) maximum estimated quantity in the current subject Contract Year, divided by, the number elapsed months in the current Contract Year (the amount so estimated, the “Maximum Volume”). For the avoidance of doubt and notwithstanding anything contained herein, Seller shall have no obligation in any Contract Year to supply to Buyer more than the Maximum Volume (as calculated on a monthly or yearly basis hereunder).

- 3.4 Buyer shall make commercially reasonable efforts to forecast its requirements for Product as accurately as possible. Buyer shall notify Seller, on a not less than annually basis, prior to the start of any Contract Year the total forecasted purchases of Product over the next 12-month period, broken down by month. Each forecast shall be considered non-binding good faith estimates for planning purposes only.
- 4. PRICES; PAYMENT TERMS.
- 4.1 With respect to each Product ordered by Buyer, the price payable by Buyer for the Product (the "Price") to be delivered, shall be set forth in either, the Sales Contract or such Order Acknowledgment issued pursuant to Section 3.
- 4.2 Unless agreed otherwise at any respective Sales Contract, during any Contract Year, Seller may adjust the pricing for the Product, the delivery point, any service allowances, and payment terms, in each case, by notifying Buyer in writing, 15-days prior to the effective date of such revised term.
- 4.3 Without limiting Section 4.2, during any Contract Year, if as a result of changes in market condition, changes in the Cost for the Product, or changes in applicable Taxes, the continued manufacture and supply of the Product becomes impractical or uneconomical (including as a result of any economic hardship), Seller shall have the option to either adjust the pricing for the Product relating to such changes or terminate the Agreement by notifying Buyer, in writing, 30-days prior to the effective date of such termination.
- 4.4 Any invoices issued to Buyer, and such invoiced amounts, whether or not disputed by Buyer, shall be due and payable in full to Seller within the time period specified in such invoice. In the event of an invoice dispute, Buyer shall deliver a written statement to Seller no later than 10 days prior to the date payment is due, listing all disputed items and providing a reasonably detailed description of each disputed item. Except for any disputed amounts, all amounts invoiced by Seller shall be deemed accepted and shall be paid in full within the time period specified in such invoice. The Parties shall seek to resolve all such disputes expeditiously and in good faith. Each Party shall continue its performance pending resolution of any good faith dispute, provided, that Buyer may not withhold and must pay disputed amounts.
- 4.5 Unless agreed otherwise in writing, all invoices shall be payable via wire transfer of immediately available funds into a bank designated by Seller to Buyer. Any changes to Seller's designated bank account must be (a) first, confirmed in a written instrument executed by a senior financial officer of Seller (e.g., chief financial officer, treasurer, controller, or director of accounting, as applicable) in writing, and (b) second, following such written confirmation, confirmed by Buyer with Seller pursuant to either a telephone conversation or video call with the known Seller's contact person. Any payment not made in accordance with these Terms and Conditions not alleviate Buyer's obligation to pay such invoiced amounts hereunder. If Buyer breaches this Section, Buyer shall bear any financial loss and all other consequences of such breach and shall indemnify Seller for such loss or damages incurred by Seller as a result thereof.
- 4.6 In the event Buyer fails to pay for any shipment of Product when such payment becomes due, pursuant to these Terms and Conditions or any such Agreement, which such non-payment constitutes a breach, in any material respect, of these Terms and Conditions, if, without prejudice to any other available right or remedy, Seller decides not to terminate the Agreement, Seller may: (a) terminate or suspend future deliveries of Product to Buyer, unless and until such payment breach is cured; and (b) in the event Buyer's financial worthiness becomes unsatisfactory to Seller, Seller may: (i) elect to withhold future shipments of Product until Buyer's financial credit worthiness has been established to Seller's reasonable satisfaction; (ii) require Buyer to make advanced payments as to future shipments; (iii) require other reasonable security for payment before future shipments of Product are provided to Buyer including without limitation, Buyer's financial statements for Seller's review, a letter of credit by an entity approved by Seller, or a payment guarantee by a parent or affiliate of Buyer; or (iv) demand return from Buyer of any Product for which payment has not been made. Buyer shall be liable under the aforesaid circumstances for any and all losses and damages Seller may suffer related thereto.
- 4.7 Without limiting Seller's rights and remedies hereunder, any invoices and invoiced amounts not paid by their respective due date shall bear interest at a rate per annum equal to 5% over the LIBOR interbank three-month rate (or the then-prevailing market convention for determining a rate of interest as a replacement to LIBOR) as published in "Financial Times" (London) on the date the payment was due and shall accrue from and including the date the relevant payment was due until but excluding the date that such amount (plus accrued interest) is received in full by Seller. In addition to Seller's rights in Section 4.6 above, in the event of non-payment, (a) Buyer shall pay to Seller, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses or other costs of collection); and (b) Seller may set off (including by set-off, offset, netting, or recoupment across or within each or all of any other commercial agreement among the Parties) any and all sums, amounts or other obligations owed by Buyer to Seller against any sums, amounts or other obligations owed by Seller to Buyer. For the avoidance of doubt, Buyer shall not be entitled nor have any right to offset or withhold any amounts owed (or to become due and owing) to Seller, against any other amount owed (or to become due and owing) to it by Seller, or as a result of any claim or allegation that payment has been made to a third-party claiming to be Seller.
- 4.8 The foregoing is in addition to, and not in limitation of, any other right or remedy available to Seller (including, without limitation, any right of setoff, offset, netting, or recoupment), whether arising under these Term and Conditions or any other agreement or under applicable Law, in equity, or otherwise.
- 4.9 Seller is under no obligation to provide Buyer with an electronic invoice. In the event that Buyer either penalizes Seller for not issuing an electronic invoice or charges a fee to Seller to be able to provide such electronic invoices, the Parties acknowledge and agree that such cost shall be passed on to Buyer and is not a component consider in Seller's pricing of the Product.
- 4.10 The Parties acknowledge and agree that the Price for the Product is net of all sales, use and transfer taxes, and other similar Taxes (excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, any net income taxes and, to the extent imposed in lieu of net income taxes, franchise, excise, or branch profits taxes) (collectively, "Buyer Taxes"). All Buyer Taxes (except for such charges which are within Seller's reasonable ability to lawfully avoid) now or hereafter imposed with respect to the Agreement (including on the sale of Products or remittance of funds in payment for Products hereunder) shall be paid by Buyer (to the extent that such Buyer Taxes are not already included in the Price calculation). If such Buyer Taxes required to be paid by Buyer hereunder are paid by Seller, Buyer shall reimburse Seller for such Buyer Taxes within 10-days of receipt of written notice from Seller.
- 5. DELIVERY; INSPECTION.
- 5.1 Delivery of Product shall be made in accordance with the Incoterms, when the Product leaves Seller's shipping dock. Each shipment will constitute a separate sale and Buyer shall pay for the Products shipped, in accordance with the payment terms specified in Section 4.4, whether such shipment is in whole or partial fulfillment of an Order Confirmation.
- 5.2 Seller shall not be responsible for any failure or delay of any Product to be delivered to Buyer's facility under the Agreement. Seller's responsibility for delivering the Product shall be limited to the location specified in the Agreement and shall not be obligated to tender delivery of any quantities for which Buyer has not provided reasonable and specific shipping instructions for such Product. In the event that Buyer fails or refuses to accept delivery of Product following arrival of Product to Buyer, Buyer shall indemnify Seller with respect to any and all fees, costs and expenses attributable to such delay, and Seller may (a) exercise its termination rights, with respect to not yet delivered quantities of Product pursuant to a confirmed Purchase Order; (b) store such Product, at Buyer's expense; or (c) sell such Product, with all proceeds from such sale being applied to any indebtedness owed to Seller from Buyer, provided, however, that Seller reserves the right to seek a judgment against Buyer for any deficiency remaining on account after the conclusion of such sale, and, to the extent that such sale generates proceeds in excess of Buyer's total indebtedness to Seller, such excess proceeds will be remitted to Buyer.
- 5.3 Buyer shall inspect any Product delivered upon receipt and, no later than 30 days after delivery to Buyer (or 60 days after delivery, if such damage, loss or other failure cannot be reasonably discussed within such period, provided, that Buyer uses diligent efforts to inspect and examine such delivered Product), notify Seller of any damage, loss, or other failure to meet the order quantity or any failure to comply with the Specifications for the Products (the Product that is the subject of any such failure, a "Non-Conforming Product"). If Buyer has not notified Seller that any Products fail to meet the specifications within such 30/60-day period, as applicable, the Products shall be deemed to have met the specifications. In the event any Products sold to Buyer by Seller hereunder fail to comply with the specifications or are otherwise Non-Conforming Products and Seller is notified of such failure within the required 30/60-day period, as applicable, Seller shall, in its sole discretion, either: (a) replace such Non-Conforming Product; (b) issue a product credit of the Price paid to Seller for such Non-Conforming Product, plus, the reasonable and documented transportation costs and expense incurred by Buyer attributable to delivery of such Non-Conforming Product to Buyer.
- 5.4 Notwithstanding Section 5.3, Seller shall in any case not be liable to Buyer for any non-conformity, (a) unless it was provided the opportunity to independently inspect and examine such Non-Conforming Products, (b) if it is reasonably determined that Buyer made further use of such Non-Conforming Products after providing notice to Seller, (c) if the alleged non-conformity is the result of misuse or mishandling, or (d) if such non-conformity is the result of Buyer's alteration or repair of such Product.
- 5.5 Any dispute as to whether any Product delivered does not meet the applicable specifications shall be determined by an independent laboratory appointed by both Parties as mutually agreed by the Parties (such agreement not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), and such laboratory shall be appointed no later than 15 business days after the expiry of the applicable 30-day inspection period (or 60-day inspection period, where applicable) above. The laboratory shall examine representative samples taken from Seller and Buyer, consider their submissions and make a final and binding decision. If the independent laboratory determines that the Product does not conform to the specifications, the laboratory's fees shall be borne by Seller. If the independent laboratory determines that the Product does conform to the specifications, the independent laboratory's fees shall be borne by Buyer, and in such event, Buyer shall have the option to either retain (and pay for) such Products or have such Products replaced by Seller (and Buyer shall pay for both the original and replacement deliveries). The remedies provided in this Section 5.5 are not intended to limit any other remedies Buyer may have under these Terms and Conditions or pursuant to Law.

6. QUANTITY; WEIGHT; ANALYSIS.

6.1 Unless otherwise agreed to in a Sales Contract, if Seller delivers a quantity of Product of up to 10%, more or less, than the quantity to be delivered under an applicable Purchase Order, Buyer shall not be entitled to object to or reject such Product, in whole or in part, in respect of such surplus or shortfall, and shall nevertheless pay for such delivered Product, on a pro-rata basis, in compliance with Section 4.4.

6.2 Seller may take, retain and store sample of the Product at the time of pre-shipment analysis, in accordance with industry practice, to determine compliance with respect to the current specification for the Product, quantity and weight for the Product, attributable to each Purchase Order. Seller's pre-shipment analysis shall be conclusive proof of conformity to such specifications and determinative of delivered quantities and weights, in each case for all purposes.

7. OWNERSHIP AND PASSAGE OF TITLE.

Unless otherwise provided herein, title to the Products shall pass from Seller to Buyer when Seller has received payment in full. Until full payment is received by Seller, Buyer and its Representatives and other third Persons hold the Product as bailees only. On breach of any payment terms, Buyer on its own behalf and on behalf of its Representatives and other third Persons authorizes Seller to enter any premises and retake possession of the Product, after Seller provides 7 business days written notice to Buyer of Seller's intention to do so. Risk of loss, damage and contamination for the Product shall pass from Seller to Buyer in accordance with the applicable Incoterms.

8. FORCE MAJEURE.

The obligations of Seller or Buyer hereunder shall be suspended during the period and to the extent that Seller is prevented or hindered from performance hereunder, or Buyer is prevented or hindered from purchasing and receiving Products hereunder, due to any causes beyond such Party's reasonable control, (such causes, "Force Majeure Events"), including without limitation: (i) acts of God, (ii) flood, fire or explosion, (iii) war, invasion, riot or other civil unrest, (iv) Laws, (v) embargoes or blockades in effect on or after the date of the Agreement, (vi) action by any Governmental Authority, (vii) national or regional emergency, (viii) strikes, labor stoppages or slowdowns or other industrial disturbances, (ix) a pandemic, or (x) shortage of adequate power or transportation facilities. For clarity and for the avoidance of doubt, the economic hardship of either Party shall not constitute a Force Majeure Event. The Party suffering a Force Majeure Event shall give notice of suspension as soon as reasonably practicable to the other Party stating the date and extent of such suspension and the cause thereof and shall resume the performance of its obligations as soon as reasonably practicable after the removal of the cause. Neither Buyer nor Seller shall be liable for the nonperformance or delay in performance of such Party's obligations under the Agreement (other than Buyer's payment obligations) when such failure is due to a Force Majeure Event. Any Party whose performance has not been hindered by the Force Majeure Event, shall have the right, if such Party has not received a notice of cessation of the Force Majeure Event within 60 days of the beginning date of such event, either immediately or at any time while the Force Majeure Event is continuing, to terminate the Agreement effective as of the date specified in the notice of termination. In the event that Seller suffers any Force Majeure Event, it may, in its sole discretion, suspend or cancel all or any part of any delivery under the Agreement, allocate its available supply of Product, or other goods or materials (without being obligated to acquire additional supplies of Product, or other goods or materials or by locating and contracting with other Persons for the sale of Product, or other goods or new suppliers of raw materials) among itself, its Affiliates and its purchasers. A Force Majeure Event shall not exempt either Party from its obligation to make payments according to the terms of the Agreement.

9. WARRANTIES; DISCLAIMER OF WARRANTIES; LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY.

9.1 Seller warrants solely to Buyer that, as of the shipment date, all Product supplied hereunder shall comply with Seller's current Product specification.

Without limiting the foregoing in any manner, Seller assumes no liability for any technical advice given to Buyer or the results obtained there from, nor does Seller assume any liability for tariff code classification information provided by Seller to Buyer, all such advice being given and accepted at Buyer's sole risk. Buyer's sole remedies for failure by or on behalf of Seller to provide Product in the manner and quality required by the Agreement shall be the remedies set forth in Section 5.3, unless any such failure arises out of or results from any gross negligence, willful misconduct, or fraud of Seller or any of its Affiliates or any of their respective Representatives, in which event, nothing contained in this sentence shall limit any of Buyer's rights or remedies hereunder or under applicable Law or otherwise.
